

Salvation Songs.

HOLINESS.

Tunes.—Welcoming, Sweet Day, 76; Blaebster, 76; Song-Book, No. 408
1 Spirit of truth, come down,
 Reveal the things of God,
 And make to us the Godhead known,
 And witness with the Blood.

Tis Thine the Blood to apply,
 And give us eyes to see,
 Who did for every sinner die,
 Hath surely died for me.

Inspire the living faith,
 Which whosoever receives,
 The witness in himself he hath,
 And consciously believes.

Tunes.—Draw Me Nearer, 235;
 Song-Book, 61.

2 I am Thine, O Lord, I have heard Thy voice,
 And it told Thy love to me;
 But I long to rise in the arms of faith,
 And be closer drawn to Thee!

Consecrate me now in Thy service,
 Lord,
 By the power of grace divine;
 Let my soul be washed from all
 every stain,
 And my will be lost in Thine!

Oh, the pure delight of a single hymn
 That before Thy throne I spend,
 When I knew in prayer, and with
 Then, my God,
 I communed as friend with friend.

WAR AND TESTIMONY.

3 I've found a friend in Jesus,
 He's everything to me;
 He's the Fairst of Ten Thousand
 to my soul,
 The Lily of the Valley, in him
 whom I see.

All I need to please and make me full and whole,
 In some His my comfort, in
 He fills me every care on him
 in all.

Chorus:
 He's the Lily of the Valley,
 The Bright and Morning Star,
 He's the Fairst of Ten Thousand
 in my soul.

He all my griefs has taken and all my sorrowful home;
 In trouble still He's my strong
 and mighty tower;
 He'll fit for him forsaken, I've all my idle toys.
 From my heart, and now He keeps me by His power,
 Though I'm world forsake me,
 And Satan tempt me so,
 Through Jesus, I shall safely
 reach the goal.

Chorus:
 "Lying beneath the shade,"
4 If you want pardon, if you want peace;
 If you want sorrow and sighing
 to cease,
 Look to Jesus, who died on the tree
 To purchase a full salvation,

Chorus:
 Living beneath the shade of the tree,
 If you want deos to reign in your soul,
 Plunge in the fountain and you shall be whole;

SALVATION.

Tunes.—Oh, the Drunkenard, 180;
 Song-Book, 37.
5 Poor sinner, thy Saviour is waiting for thee;
 Is waiting to see if thou still
 will do;
 His love is so boundless, so full
 and so free;
 Then say not come home while
 He's waiting for thee?

Chorus:

Oh, the drunkenard may come, and
 The sinner may come,
 Backsliders and sinners are all
 welcome home;
 If you will but repeat and be washed in the Blood,
 For ever and ever you will dwell
 with the Lord.

Second Insertion.

The Lord is now laid low, poor
 sinner, for thee;
 He knows thy poor soul is in great misery;
 From the moment of death He would fain set her free;
 Come now to thy Son, poor, I'm
 waiting for thee.

Tune. "There's Mercy Still For
 Time." B. J., 15; S. M., 11, 12.
6 O wretched, knowing not the love of Jesus' lonely love.

In darkness living all the while,
 Hefting alred gear,
 To their Jehovah's voice doth sound,
 The walls doth to fence;
 Thy Saviour hath a ransom
 found;
 There's mercy still for thee,

Long in the darkness thou hast
 away lived, joy and peace,
 Then hast those worldly pleasures tried.

But found them soon to cease,
 One gloomy, lingering ray of hope,
 In anguish then must hast
 lie down in the joyful sound,
 There's mercy still for thee,
 Caplin.

NEW ARRIVALS WELCOMED.

CUTLETS FROM CONTEMPORARIES

The Army Steps In.

Pelagic Stories from the Slums.

A american man aged forty-eight who had failed to find through the Labour Exchange a place of employment, was absorbed in misery. His wife was absent, stripped of一切, and he and his wife were starving. And what? Think you, was the answer to help for which this honest fellow asked? Only a box of tapers. He was too hawking of experience, and uncertain he could make his living if he had a little shelter. Yet, although he could not know it himself, he would have found a friend to give him even a little help, so he came to the Army, was furnished with the shelter he wanted, and to-day is fitting to support himself and his wife.

A few weeks ago one of the Young Officers who investigated the statements of these married applicants for assistance, entered a house in South Africa, and found the husband and wife living on rations which they pay as weekly. They had put all their boots in order to fit the previous week's rent, and on the day before the Officer's visit had paid a pittance for six-months' rent and obtain food. They showed the Officer the pawn-bills for those, and also thirty old pair of breeches, a bunching pair of old shorts to which this husband had been previously accustomed. A single sum previously homed him quite helpless for ten weeks. Nowhere to say this family's sad story was at once relieved, and the Army would look after him until brighter times came—All the World.

A New World Every Day.

Here's a Good Habit to Get.

Are you one of the tourists who are going to import, in looking hopefully into the future, or homing the past? Then do super-easy for these unhappy souls who are trying to cultivate the clean slate hand. What is it?

The Praying League.

General Prayer on Land, be pleased graciously bless all who are in any trouble, sorrow, or bereavement, and especially meet thy grace and presence and help this hour.

4. Pray for all special soulsaving campaigns.

5. Pray for awakening of the intelligent class.

6. Pray for the children in Canadian homes, and for the little ones in the homes of our new.

9. M. Man-made
Solv. 4-20.
10. W. Lovell's
Solv. 4-21.
11. D. Re. 4-18.
12. D. Re. 4-18.

Live a day at a time. Shut out like a full moon. So the Egyptians made an idol with a stone's head, and named it Past, the same name they give to the moon. The word means the moon, and the name of the moon has been changed to pass or pass, the name which almost every one gives to the rat. Past and Present are pet names for killing almost everywhere; but few people can tell where they came from.

One person who gets the clean slate habit, realizing the value of living but a day at a time, determines to make the day as bright as possible. It is easy. Bright looks. Bright words. It is pleasant things. If the disagreeable ones must do, invent them to turn to the interests when they can be rubbed out, though perhaps they must be written.

The person with the clean slate habit does not care much wrinkles he dread of the morning. He takes all the fun of the day, such a smile when it becomes a habit, such a smile when it overcomes the worries as they come till to blue the skin.

Try it for just one day. Begin this morning to run out of your pocket the things you called to be yours. The things you may fall in along the way, until you go to bed to-night, live for the best thing as well, and as effectively as you can.

If a day spent is not entirely what you spend it, at least the greater part of happiness is higher than if you spend it in the meeting of your wants, a crowd of several hundred persons had gathered, most whom remained interested and interested in the close. Besides the three companies which stood on the platform, the 1st P. M. Legion, the Stockade, the Mills Battalion, and the dep't of the Side-Presidency were filled with spectators. A part of the crowd was constantly changing, so that the total number comprising the congregation must have been 1,200.

For a full hour and a quarter the crowd listened with great interest and with evident enthusiasm to the speaker. Many heads were bowed and eyes lowered when the time came for prayer, and when it was intimated that some deep impressions were left behind when finally the meeting closed.

A committee offering was taken, and the third company of 1st Guards—Scholes.

SOUTH AMERICA can now boast of a Territorial Staff Band, which recently has been formed. It took part in the recent Annual Congress conducted by General Steiner and Mrs. Emanuel Blumen Ayres, and its players, a large organ-pipe band, was generally commented upon.

What Are the Corps Doing? This Page Tells You

OLD COMRADES VISIT THE TELEPHONE CITY

Some Wonders of Winter Warfare.

At the Holiness meeting at Brantford on Sunday, Mrs. Adjutant Hoddington gave the most interesting address of the day. Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Adjutant Habkirk and Ensign Flaws were present. In the afternoon Mrs. Adjutant Hobkirk gave an address. At night after an earnest Salvation Army meeting, Captain Adjutant Hoddington, G.O., conducted a crowded meeting in the Citadel. Adjutant Habkirk was present with his banjo.

The commanding officers, assistants and visiting workers have been supplying the poor of the city with substantial bushels of provisions and articles of clothing.

On Wednesday night the Soprano Band and Leader Johnson sang Christmas carols in the streets of the city.—V. Wimble, Corps Corp.

XMAS DAY CONVENTIONS.

On Sunday afternoon, Dec. 24, at the Temple, Brigadier and Mrs. Burgrave, the new X.P. Secretaries, were given a welcome to the territory. Mrs. Young, President of the Temple Corps, who occupied the platform. It was a splendid and well-attended meeting. The String Band rendered some music, and Mrs. Adj't. DeBoys rendered the "White Junior Work," save a short welcome address.

Brigadier and Mrs. Burdett conducted the night meeting, and four souls were saved.

On Christmas Day a meeting was conducted by Staff-Captain Hayes and Captain Knudson. Three souls volunteered to the mercy seat.

FROM THE XMAS CRY.

Officer Gives Unique Address. Ensign Hamilton recently gave an impressive address of Monte Carlo to the members of the Christmas Cry. After Miss Work and Women Miss Work. For forty minutes the people gave good attention to this address. On Thursday night, the band, under Captain Smith, gave a musical festival. The Hall was packed. On Sunday Ensign Robinson and Captain Smith led on—Mrs. Turvey.

LIFTING THE BURDENS.

A fund has been started at Brantford. A few comrades and friends are giving ten cents each, and the amount is fast enough to keep the Quarantine Hall warm and comfortable.

A few of the soldiers, with the Officers, went caroling on Christmas Eve, and has helped us to clear all old debts of the Corps. One interested.

RETURNED FOR HIS WIFE.

Adjutant and Mrs. Cameron were in charge of the meetings at Dovercourt on Christmas Sunday. In the prayer meeting at night, a man came forward for his wife to the mercy-seat. It was a beautiful sight, and formed a fitting climax to a day of good meetings and spiritual pro-

SAVED DURING SINGING.

First Concert's Exploits. Captain Hayes and Lieut. Marshall led all the meetings on Sunday, Dec. 24, at Parliament St. At night, while the congregation was singing the opening song, a man made his way into the room, and at the meeting was stopped. He was captured and the inside meeting was extended to the sign by the treasurer of G.O.

In the first meeting of four comrades came to the tent-form for salvation. The afternoon, the Hall was full, and the singing and hymns were enjoyed. At the night meeting many persons were turned away. The Brigadier's solo singing captivated every one, and we believe he was very effective in backing home the truth. The addresses given by our own G.O.'s were very helpful. Eleven souls knelt at the mercy-seat in the night meeting.

The Brigadier and his wife have already won the hearts of the people, we hope, for their hearty reception of the different Corps in the Hamilton Division.—Corr.

WITH THE PRISONERS.

At the Central Prison and Mental Reformatory, Toronto, on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 31, Staff-Captain and Mrs. Fraser, assisted by two of their daughters and Ensign Dazzell, conducted a service in both institutions. The visitors were as usual, ready to feel very welcome, and before they left had the joy of seeing a total of fifty-six prisoners stand up as signs that they had decided to God for him!

STAFF-CAP. SIMS AT PARIS. Special meetings were conducted by Staff-Captain Sims and Captain Weeks at St. Paul's on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 10 and 11. The subject for the afternoon meeting was with the Divisional Captains and Captains of both institutions. The visitors were as usual, ready to feel very welcome, and before they left had the joy of seeing a total of fifty-six prisoners stand up as signs that they had decided to God for him!

VISITED BY NEW D.G.s. On Sunday afternoon London was given privilege to have its new Director, Capt. John and Mrs. Morris, to lead the afternoon meeting. The singular of the Major's was much appreciated. In the prayer meeting two persons joined hands for prayer and one yielded to God. D.C. Gray.

THE YOUTH SALVATION. The visit of Major Morris to Woodstock, Ont., was most enjoyed. The Major gave an interesting address on his stay in British Columbia and Alaska.

After giving the soldiers some advice and shaking hands all over, we wished our way home feeling much encouraged in a result of meeting with our new D.C. Gray.

IN THE NEW STATE. Lieutenant-Colonel Turner and Staff-Captain Turner assisted by the Subscribers' Department staff, conducted the meeting at Leger Street on Sunday, Dec. 24. All meetings were well attended, and after the meeting, the Citadel will be fully open for larger crowds at the Corps.

In the afternoon the Colonel directed the child of Bandmaster Cade. Previously he visited the young ones in their fine new hall given on address.

Four Juniors and one adult were in the mercy-seat at the close of the evening meeting, after which the Band and Singers serenaded a few residential streets near the Citadel.

We have said goodbye to Captain French, who has laboured at Gananoque, N.B., for the last two months, and we have now welcomed Captain A. Young. The sisters have just had their first sale of work, and raised a sum of fifty-nine dollars.—J. H. Way.

A Happy Event at Dovercourt—Bro. Lewis and Sister May Cocking United in Marriage.

A Hallelujah wedding took place at Dovercourt on New Year's night. And it was the best and most brilliant affair in the Hall. The Hall was packed, and the buoyancy of spirit and feeling was as remarkable as the crowd. The Band and Singers gave appropriate selections and so increased the enthusiasm. Lieutenant-Colonel Cade, leader of ceremonies, and tied the knot with just the needed nicely.

Bro. Herb Lewis, the bridegroom, was a member of Bristol L. Converting Band prior to coming to Canada. He is now in the Toronto Singers, the leader of which (Bro. Spokes) acted as best man. Sister May Cocking, the bride who also comes from Bristol, was given away by her father and supported by Sister Mrs. Corbin, Bandmaster and Staff-Captain. Broes, a brother of the single folks, and Mrs. Colonel Chandler and Mrs. Adj't. Cameron well represented the married people and their joys. Adjutant Cameron presided over the wedding supper for the Jesters.

Bro. and Sister Lewis will continue to be soldiers of Dovercourt. May God bless them in their future life.

WINDSOR SONGSTERS DO WEEK-END

Big Sung Festival a Special Feature.

The Windsor, Ont., Songsters are still progressing. Dec. 16 and 17 and 18 was the Brigade's first week-end, and from the first song in open-air on the Saturday night to the close of the meeting on Monday night everything went off well. The speaker had a part to do, and did all right. On Saturday night two souls were saved.

On Sunday afternoon the Brigade gave a festival of song which was well appreciated, and again on Monday night another musical and singing feast was given, and the Brigade sang some of the latest from the Musical Salvationists, including "Jesus Lord of All," "Abide With Me," "Meet the Call," "Sing Glory," and "Sweet Charming Christmas Bells," and many others.

On Monday night we finished up with one soul at the Cross, who made three souls for the week-end. The Sisters of the Brigade donned their hats and spoke for the first time thus far in the Brigade quite a military appearance. Col. Bliss Windsor Corps—Sec.

AT LIGNE STREETS.

The Chief Secretary and Major Mayo led out at Ligne Street Lieut-Colonel Turner, Major and Mrs. Allwell, Adjutant and Mrs. Peacock, Staff-Sheard, Ensign and Mrs. McDonald, and the Women's Special Officer.

The Holiness Meeting was opened with the singing of the hymn "I Will Praise Thee" and the singing of the Lord's Prayer.

In the afternoon the Band and Singers gave a musical programme over which the Colonel presided. Lieut. Sanford, who has been assisting Adjutant and Mrs. Corbin for several months, was the soloist.

In the afternoon the Band and Singers gave a musical programme over which the Colonel presided. The Spirit of God abode the building, and twenty-three men and women knelt at the mercy-seat, for Indians and for foreigners, there was a wonderful atmosphere in a glorious atmosphere.

WELCOME TO NEW D.G.s.

They conduct the Sunday Meetings—Two Souls.

This past week has been a week of special interest at St. Paul's. On Monday night, Dec. 24, we had Ensign and Mrs. Downey with us. The Ensign gave us a lecture on "Our Memories," which was very interesting. He also said good-bye to go to the West Indies as a mission master.

On Thursday we had our new Divisional Officer, Brigadier and Mrs. Morehen, also their son and daughter. They were accompanied by Staff-Captain Gandy. We also had a half-jubilee meeting, a good crowd of people being present.

On Sunday, Dec. 24, we had the pleasure of having Brigadier and Mrs. Morehen with us for the day. God gave very near to each other. The Brigadier's talks throughout the day were enjoyed by all. As he dealt out the truths from the Word, we felt that he had entered in to our hearts.

In the night meeting the Brigadier spoke from the 131 Psalm very effectively, and two souls sought pardon. We closed giving God the glory.—L. R.

A LONE STRANGER.

How He Got Saved. On returning from the open-air recent night, a man was seen walking alone in the dark at Grantham, N.H. Capt. Stride spoke to him and found that he was in great distress. After a brief talk and persuasion the man made his way to the pentecostal form and gathered strength.

We have every reason to rejoice with him with the Christmas relief work. We were able to take cheer to many homes.

NAME DURING THE LESSON.

On Sunday night, November 29, three souls (two brothers and a sister), came to the pentecostal form for salvation at Chance Harbour, Newfoundland.

On Sunday, December 3rd, we held the joy of seeing two souls come to God's feet in the Holiness Meeting, and the other at night. While the Lieutenant was reading the lesson she made her way to the tool of the Cross.—R. J. E.

ENROLLMENT AT HAMILTON III.

We have just closed a good week-end. The meetings being conducted by the Band. The people that come to our meetings are truly interested that besides holding a place of meeting, we have successful salvation meetings. At a period in the Sunday night service we had the pleasure of enrolling four recruits as Soldiers for Jesus. May they be kept by His power.

On December 24th Christmas Grys are all gone. Hallelujah—Beecroft, Captain.

ARMY GAINING GROUND.

Major Morris, our new D.G., reached St. Mary's on Thursday a bitterly cold night, but this did not deter us from going on the street—three of us—and bannering the Devil. Our audience was the Holiness meetings. The people were of all kinds of people. Nevertheless, we had a bright, happy, and inspiring time. Better things ahead for St. Mary's People give good support to the Army work.

Major F. Morris recently visited Tilsonburg. Everybody was delighted with the Major. We were made to feel right at home with him. The hall was not filled owing to our speed. However, the audience was good and an assurance of a good crowd next time.

Our Sunday night crowds are increasing. The people say the more the better they have attended for a long time.—F. G. D. Treasurer.

THE WAR CRY.

CANADA'S FISHING INDUSTRY.

AN INTERESTING AND PROFITABLE CALLING.

Drying Fish in Nova Scotia.

THE TERRITORIAL FISHING GROUNDS OF CANADA constitute the most extensive and abundant fishing grounds in the world. They extend from the Bay of Fundy to the Strait of Belle Isle on the Atlantic coast, and from the Fraser River to Prince Rupert on the Pacific. In addition to these, there are about 250,000 square miles of lake water in the interior.

The deep sea fisherman of the Atlantic coast who net cod, haddock, halibut, pollack, and halibut, work in vessels of from 10 to 100 tons. These boats can carry crews of between 12 and 20 men. They are painted in various bright colors, some being quite fresh, while the rest are split and salted ready for drying. The fishing grounds worked by these vessels are the numerous banks which lie from 10 to 80 miles off the Canadian coast, and the long, sheltered oil over the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

The in-shore fishery is carried on in smaller vessels with crews of from four to seven men, and also in boats manned by two or three men. Their catch of commercial food fish includes cod, halibut, haddock, pollack, halibut, mackerel, alewives, smelt, herring, swordfish, salmon, trout, salmon, and lobsters and oysters. On the Pacific coast salmon is predominant, but halibut and salmon are caught in large numbers, and sailing vessels carry on the work of the halibut fishery, while the salmon and herring industry is worked in small boats. The inland lakes on the Pacific coast provide whitefish, pickerel, pike, shad, and fresh-water herring, and a few less important kinds, sturgeon, tugs and small trout are used on the lakes.

The fish and fish products taken by Canadian fishermen during the year 1909-10, according to the annual report of the Fisheries Branch, constitute a record in point of value, being the highest yet reached during any one year in the history of the Canadian fisheries. This amount realized was $29,620,103, $3,708,084 ahead of the figures of 1908-9, and $140,007 better than those of 1905, which formerly held the record. The total was equivalent to a fishing fleet of 1,200 vessels, steamers and tugs (five of which were engaged in fur sealing), and 41,470 boats, the being manned is shown, and the erratic movements of the mackerel are once more demonstrated in the total value falling off from the total value of the fishery," remarks Mr. Desbarats, the Deputy Minister.

"It seems to have advanced."

The total value has risen that of the previous year,

"in spite of the present increase, however, the oyster industry," says the Deputy Minister, "seems to have declined. In looking back over the records of the last twenty years it will be found that, for instance, in 1891, the total output of oysters was 61,032 barrels, valued at $183,180; then, in 1900, 41,000 barrels, valued at $167,080, while in the year under review it is 38,553 barrels, valued at $251,904. This should be one of the booming branches of the fishing industry."

Salmon Counting in British Columbia.

The industry of salmon fishing and canning, besides forming one of the principal sources of income in British Columbia, provides employment for many hundreds of persons in all departments of the Dominion's fishing industry. The chief market for salmon is Canada and salmon is Great Britain, but increasingly larger quantities of salmon are finding their way through Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa. In addition, the enormous development of the Dominion itself has increased the demand for salmon in the United States, and salmon is considered a great delicacy, as well as by the hands on the railway construction camps in the interior of the country.

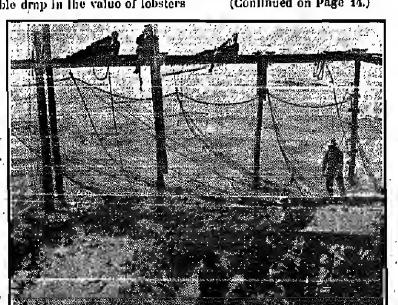

Commercial operations first began in a small way on the Fraser River in the early 'sixties. Now there are over ninety canneries (Continued on Page 14.)

Total $29,620,103

The relative values of the commercial fishes returning $10,000 and upwards for the year 1909-10 are shown in the next table in their order of rank. It will be noted that the increase in the value of salmon makes a very large jump in the rank of the other fishes.

BRO. MARKS OF REGINA.

On Dec. 10th we laid to rest the body of Bro. Marks, who came to town only a few days before his death. Our brother was the husband of Mrs. Captain Lee of Riverville, and a beloved and strong man. He had desired his father to have an Army funeral.

"In spite of the present increase, however, the oyster industry," says the Deputy Minister, "seems to have declined. In looking back over the records of the last twenty years it will be found that, for instance, in 1891, the total output of oysters was 61,032 barrels, valued at $183,180; then, in 1900, 41,000 barrels, valued at $167,080, while in the year under review it is 38,553 barrels, valued at $251,904. This should be one of the booming branches of the fishing industry."

BRO. LEE OF RIVERDALE.

The above comrade was a faithful follower of Jesus Christ and a member of the church of our Lord and His Saviour. He loved the Army meetings, and attended them every Sunday morning, and helped the Corps in every possible way for many years. His smile and greeting will never be forgotten by the soldiers of the Corps. The news of his death was announced by Adjt. Byers from the platform of Riverville Hall, to which a message had been sent on Sunday night, Dec. 31st, and came as a great shock to all present. We pray that God may comfort and sustain all the bereaved.

"CAPT." SINK OF RIVERDALE.

Brother Sink and his wife were familiar figures in the above Corps, though not serving as soldiers. He possessed the Army spirit and frequented the meetings which were even a joy to the heart of the now promoted comrade. His genial manner and willing service made him popular with all Officers and men.

Only a few weeks ago he took the part of King Bolshoezar in a tableau presented in the Hall. He died on Friday, Dec. 28th, fully trusting in his Savior. To Adjt. Lee he had a few words of advice, which he gave him, and which he has often repeated, giving a definite testimony as to his readiness for Heaven. "Your poor king is sick," said "bul," "but, thank God if I don't get better it will be well with me."

A general service was conducted at the house of Adjt. Lee on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 31st.

Our prayers are with the bereaved wife and relatives.

THREE UNSAVED MEN.

At Murray's in Soldiers Meeting.

Two souls came to the pentent-form for salvation at Yorkville on Sunday last. And among the Soldiers' meeting had Tuesday three men, who had walked into the Hall, knelt at the Cross. One was under the influence of liquor, but got through all right. The other two had never before sought salvation, but did so in earnest that night.

The Corps' Singing Brigade did splendidly at carolling during Christmas week. Over $1000 was realized. Lieut. Laurier had charge of the Brigade.

A successful sale of work was held at Berlin, Nfld., on November 30th. The sisters deserve great credit for their hard work. One hundred and ten dollars were realized—also twenty over last year's offering. The money goes towards the new Hall fund.—Adjt. Sleath.

OUR INTERNATIONAL NEWS LETTER

THE GENERAL.

The General's week-end at Bedminster, Bristol — which, as readers may remember, took place only a few weeks ago — was closed by a very touching incident.

Monday morning found The General extra weary, and when at the station he walked towards the train which was to carry him to the world's metropolis, he was seen to stop rather more than usual. The railway porter who seized his baggage handled it carefully, and placed it gently on the carriage rack, and when a kindly officer offered him a kindly acknowledgment, he replied:

"No, sir; no; thank you, all the same, but I could not think of taking anything for carrying The General's luggage. I took the General's bag, but not his coat or hat, for I am the greatest honour of my life!" And as the porter turned to attend to his other duties, he was seen to wipe away the tears which had come to his eyes, and was heard to whisper, "I could not take a tip from a grand old man like the General."

The General went his way, the porter went his, and the crowd dispersed. But that kind action of the humble railway servant remains, and I am sure (writes Colonel Lawley) the God who made not a creature of the world better given in His name will have taken note of the burden carried so willingly for His tired servant, our Leader.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Army's festive activities in the Army Bag, including the providing of a special Christmas repast for the 7,000 men who are abroad on the result of going to the front, are still in progress, and if this is true, it is but another indication of the munificence and unprincipled foundation upon which the perservation is based. Three comrades are still awaiting arrest and conveyance to jail, and after serving sentences of fourteen days apiece for giving Gospel addresses on the hook. They are Euston Waters (Burgess Hill), Lieutenant Steven (Devon), and Mrs. Sully.

The weekend's lighting was accomplished by Capt. May Booth and Lieutenant Whistler bombarding the saloons with Army papers. At one saloon the barman told the Captain that he did not like hearing the men swear, and sought her advice as to how he could prevent it. Officers are being vigorously indoctuated.

PERSONALITIES.

Over 650 comrades have already accepted invitations to the third of the Staff's Council for Comrades, Department Bandmasters, and Sergeant Leaders, to be held at Clapton on Sunday, Jan. 21st.

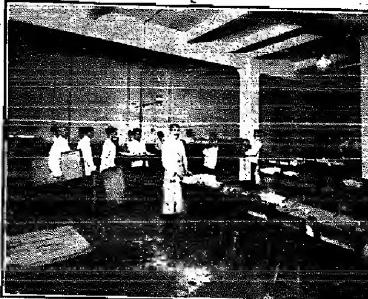

The Chief has a number of other engagements on the list for the New Year, including an All-Night of Prayer on January 21st.

The final returns for Candidates' Sunday show that over 99 Young People volunteered for citizenship, which is a considerable advance on last year.

The only recent development is that the meetings Open-Air drill is to be held at Clapton. Major Murray's fine has been previously paid. In the last instance the authorities will be informed in regard to who had paid it, and so far as we can gather, they are now equally satisfied.

The suggestion made is that the payment of the fine is "engineered" by the town authorities themselves because they are afraid of the result of going to the front, and are singularly ungrateful.

Within a month after (says Commissioner Booth-Tucker) two villages surrendered. One sent us its lunching invitation: "We are sheep lost in the thorns; come and save us free." We went and had a good time.

Corps of uniformed Soldiers. One of the Soldiers of this Corps lately brought all his relations, numbering some thirty persons, to a distant village to visit the Queen's 25th Hussars. The leading Hussar begged her blessing, and told her that she must come and visit them, and must not make any provision for her wife while with them, as they would feed her, and give her good milk as well.

The other village has been visited from time to time, but it had seemed that the good seed fell on unprofitable ground, until a day when we entered it at the time of the harvest. It was like this: The castle people suspected the villagers of doing them in injury and came at the dead hour of night, and cruelly set fire to their huts, taking without a shelter from cold in winter or from heat in summer.

The poor villagers remembered in their distress the kind messengers of Salvation, so they sent a delegation to the Count of Queen's 25th Hussars (Colonel Bonnister, who was promoted to Glory last year) with an urgent appeal for help. Having ascertained the really distressed situation of the people, the Hussars gathered and built the ruined homes, and we had the satisfaction of seeing the poor people with a roof over their heads come in, and now in that village every soul is either a convert or a soldier.

and wharves operated on the coast, and 8,000 men are employed in the fisheries at the Fraser and Skeena Rivers, Rivers Inlet and Nass River, each, excepting the last, extending from the others for from two hundred miles. At Love Inlet, Nootka, Alert Bay, and at Clayquot, on the west coast of Vancouver Island, take place large herring operations, but the principal centre is the Frazer River.

The different kinds of salmon packed include sockeyes, red sprats, white sprats, chum, pink, cohoes, and steelheads. On being received the fish are at once put into the process of canning. They are first cleaned, either by Indian women or Chinese who open and wash them in a bath of fresh water. They are then passed on to another bath of flowing fresh water, scrubbed with brush, and again plunged into fresh flowing water, where they receive a third scouring. From this point on is done by machinery. The salmon are cut up into steaks, which are then packed into cans and weighed. The lid is then put on, soldered, and passed through water to ascertain that there are no leakages. After the cans are cleaned the cans are constructed so the gosses escape, resolved again, tested for leaks, and finally cooked. It is a rare occasion that a fish is not in the tin, cooked and ready for bottling, when it has been found swimming in the sea. Scrupulous cleanliness is one of the most important points to be observed in a cannery. The blood and offal are collected and saved by the waters of the river, which always run beneath that part of the factory where the cleaning process is performed. In this way there is no question that no day's work is ever concluded until the whole factory, from cleaning house to machine room, is thoroughly cleansed by the application of fresh water, and the floors and tables are perfectly clean.

The total salmon pack in the Fraser River district for the year 1910, according to a statement issued by the Campers Association of the Province of British Columbia, was 223,148 cases. This is naturally considerably below the salmon pack in the large fourth year runs, but is a fairly good average for an off year. The pack in British Columbia during the 1910 season was 709,201 cases. The total pack of the year for the Skeena River District was 225,005 cases; Nass River District, 121,368 cases; Nass River District, 28,720 cases; and young districts, 27,000 cases.

During the 1910 season, the total year pack of the pack in the various districts was: Nass River, 807,593 cases; Skeena River, 40,750 cases; Nass River, 40,900; Rivers Inlet, 91,014; outlying, 127,971. Total, 907,201.

SOUL REST.

from their enemies. These who enter the rest of hell cease from their struggle with the flesh, and indeed from depravity, by whatever name it may be designated. All antagonisms to God are exploded from the soul and Christ reigns without a rival in a silent, imperious, air of dominion. There is no war more distressing than civil war, and when a confederacy against Christ reigns in the believer's heart, there is no possibility of rest. The strong man to be cast out makes desperate efforts to bind his bonds and reassert his supremacy in the household. The "infection of nature" within him makes him more than usually susceptible to temptation. When he is without, when his behavior would do good, evil is present with him. It is to be feared that the majority of Christians are living in the seventh chapter of Romans instead of the sixth and eighth. The tendencies of evil are so strong within them, and the contest with the flesh so distressing at its outset, that the ordinary O'wretchedness" of the flesh is often forgotten.

This is what occurred last Sunday. At seven o'clock in the morning the Officers and soldiers mustered for a prayer meeting at the Princess Street Chapel. That same evening, arising considerably before daylight, but that is mere trifle. The next appointment was at 9:30 a.m., when the forces marched up to the County Jail, and for one hour held service for the benefit of all who were as cared to attend. At 10:30 a.m. a half hour was taken for an open-air meeting on the street. Then from eleven o'clock until half past twelve they gathered in the church for their second service, this time in the parlour. After two hours of services had given their last touch, Major sang again with much feeling "Memories of Mother," which he spoke in such a manner that all could understand. Major and Mrs. Green will receive a warm welcome at Westminster Corps. Two hours have been saved during the week. Capt. McLean and his wife have sold all the War Crys.—Mrs. Dunlop.

Major and Mrs. Green, Divisional Commanders for their first visit to minister in Christmas.

Out of curiosity we asked Adj. Julian Allen, the commander of the Canadian Corps to give us a brief outline of his work last Sunday. To those of us who find it a hardship to go to church once a Sunday, or even every other Sunday, and even monthly, the Adjutant General will appear a little strenuous.

FOUR VETERANS TO

Bridgadier Rawlings Leads Night Service at Home

The meetings at the home of Capt. Rawlings, led by our own Ensign and Mrs. Debernard, adjourned from the hall of the very faithful soldiers' van on the ground for the evening open-air meeting, and the usual route of march was gone over. At 7:30 when they returned to the barracks and remained there till ten o'clock for the regular evening service.

We formed a committee that sandwiched in between those services Sunday school was held at 10 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

We asked Adjutant Allen if last Sunday's programme was the same as the previous week.

He said it was. So on Sunday he said it might be a little more complete when sick people had to be visited, or members of the Town-and-Out club applied for rest.

For the most of us last Sunday night-of-for would be quite sufficient to last a whole week, but not so with "The Salvation Army."

We are told that the services held at the jail are most interesting. Any is the only religious organization that can be wardred in the Watch-night service, just at the dawn of the year, when two young men, at the Cross and found past

MAJOR AND MRS.

Visit New Westminster Christmas.

Major and Mrs. Green, Divisional Commanders for their first visit to minister in Christmas.

The Major spoke with power in the Holiness of the place where two old ladies were a real old-and-easy. The singing of Major and Mrs. Green was much enjoyed. Mrs. Green read the lesson and spoke, her voice a source of great encouragement.

Sunday night will long remain fresh in our minds. From very commencement Gudy was toll Major and Mrs. Little daughter played the piano and sang sweetly while the band sang "Lord help us." After two hours of services had given their last touch, Major sang again with much feeling "Memories of Mother," which he spoke in such a manner that all could understand. Then the "Salvation" meeting was held, and then the Corps broke up into two detachments, one going to the House of Refuge to conduct a service for the inmates of that excellent institution, and the other to minister to the unfortunate who have found a haven there. After the conclusion of these services there was another adjournment for refreshments, but at 10:30 a.m. the very faithful soldiers' van on the ground for the evening open-air meeting, and the usual route of march was gone over. Salvation Songs.

HOLINESS.

Tune—At the Cross, 208; Are You Washed? 207; Song Book, 221.

1 When my heart was so hard
That I never would regard
The salvation held up to my face,
To the cross when I came
In my darkness and sinne
It was there where I first saw the light.

Chorus:

At the cross, at the cross, where
I first saw the light.

For my blindness I thought
That no power could have brought
Such a marvel of wonder and might;
But twas done for I felt
At no loss as I knell
That my darkness was turned into light.

Then the gloom had all passed,
And, rejoicing at last, my soul was made light.
For my Lord, I could see,
In his love died for me.
On the cross where I first saw
the light.

Tune—Reeling of the Blest, 410;
Song-Book, 456.

2 I bring Thee, dear Jesus, my 3 Nor hold back from Thee any part;
Obedient to Thy welcome call,
I yield Thee that the whole of my heart!

Chorus: "Oh, speak, etc."
Perverse, stubborn, aye was my will;
My feet ran in self-chosen
ways;
Thy pleasure henceforth to fulfil,
I'll spend all the rest of my days;

A Soldier I'd be every inch,
Ever loyal & true in the event;
From battle-field never would I
flinch,
Honorably given up to the war.

WAR AND TESTIMONY.

Tune—Never Run Away, 52;
Song-Book, 612.

3 There's a land of pure delight,
Where saints immortal reign;
Infinite day excels the night,
And pleasures banish pain.

Glorious:

Wise's marching through Eu-
phemia's ground,
And soon shall hear the trumpet blow, when I shall with Jesus reign.

And never, never part again,
What, never part again?
No, never, never part again!
And when we shall with Jesus be again.

And never, never part again,
These everlasting spring abodes,
And never-withering flowerets
Health like a narrow sea, doldres
That heavenly land from me.

Oh, glorious we make our doubts secure,
Those gloomy thoughts that rise.

With unclouded eyes!

O god our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Be Thou our guard while life
shall last,
And our perpetual home.

Tune—Never Mind, Go on, 258;
Song-Book, 610.

4 In the fight, say, does your heart grow weary?
Do you find your path is rough and rocky,
And above the sky is dark and stormy?

Never mind; go on!
Lay aside all fear, and onward
pressing,
Brave fight, and God will give
His blessing;

Though the war at times may prove distressing,
Never mind; go on!

Chorus:
When the road is rough, etc.

Faithful he, delaying not to fulfill his duty,
Where Christ lends, though it may be through sorrows, though
If the strife should never grow
ta-ta-morrows,

Never mind; go on!
Cheerful, ye light, will you burden-fighting?

One bold heart will always others brighten,
Though the strife the onward
way may frighten,
Never mind; go on!

SALVATION.

5 Hark! the voice of Jesus calling—

"Come, ye guilty, come in Me;
I have rest and peace in offer,
Rest, then, following one, for thee;

Take salvation; take salvation—
Take it now and happy be!"

Life is found alone in Jesus,
Only have I offered thee—
Offered without price or money,
The gift of God, sent free,

Take salvation; take salvation—
Take it now and happy be.

6 O find me help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Our shelter from the stormy waves;

And our eternal home!

Under the shadow of Thy throne,
Still may we dwell secure;

Sufficient is Thine arm alone,

Absent thy defence is sure—
